

Today's Paper » NATIONAL » KERALA

Published: August 18, 2009 00:00 IST | Updated: March 8, 2010 12:54 IST

Seminar on clay industries

Special Correspondent

KANNUR: Kerala Clays and Ceramics Products Ltd. (KCCP) here will organise a seminar on 'Scope and future of clays and clay-based industries' here on October 3 in connection with its silver jubilee celebration.

The one-day seminar being organised jointly with the North Malabar Chamber of Commerce (NMCC) will be attended by delegates representing local bodies, Small Scale Industries Association, the Manufacturing Association, tile co-operative societies, prominent State public sector companies, trade unions, political parties, Kerala Sasthra Sahithya Parishad and environmental groups.

A press release from the KCCP said here that Industries Minister Elamaram Karim and Revenue Minister K.P. Rajendran would attend the seminar.

Experts from the National Institute for Interdisciplinary Science and Technology (NIIST), Centre for Earth Science Studies, Geological Survey of India and the Pollution Control Board would also participate in the seminar.